Goodmorning Jim
Boy, I had a hard time getting up this morning yesterday my brother was confirmed yesterday and we had like a party. Well, next year is the last one. I hope we all learn something.
Goodby for now
Stephen John Kera

Hi ya Jim
Have a nice summer
this summer. Get out good old chemistry
your acid drumming
a little H_2SO_4, HNO_3, and Pogg. Up comes beat and acid. Watch out Ron's on the loose
Lots of luck to you guy.
Vern.

Hi Jim
Too bad that we only had PhyEd together this year, that was fun. Good luck in your last year as a Senior at MHS.

Foreword

❖ Our aim is to bring to life the activities of Menasha High School by exhibiting and symbolizing the goals that students and teachers have accomplished.

The memories contained herein belong to each of us who has striven to develop a sound foundation of knowledge upon which a structure of success can be built.

In Athletics . . .

Help Us Reach Our Goals.

Hi Jim,

Well we're through with another year of school and I don't feel any older. We had alot of fun in Phy. Ed. It was too bad we weren't on the same team in baseball. We would have skund them how to play the I hope to get you in a few classes next year. Best of luck to a great, great kid.

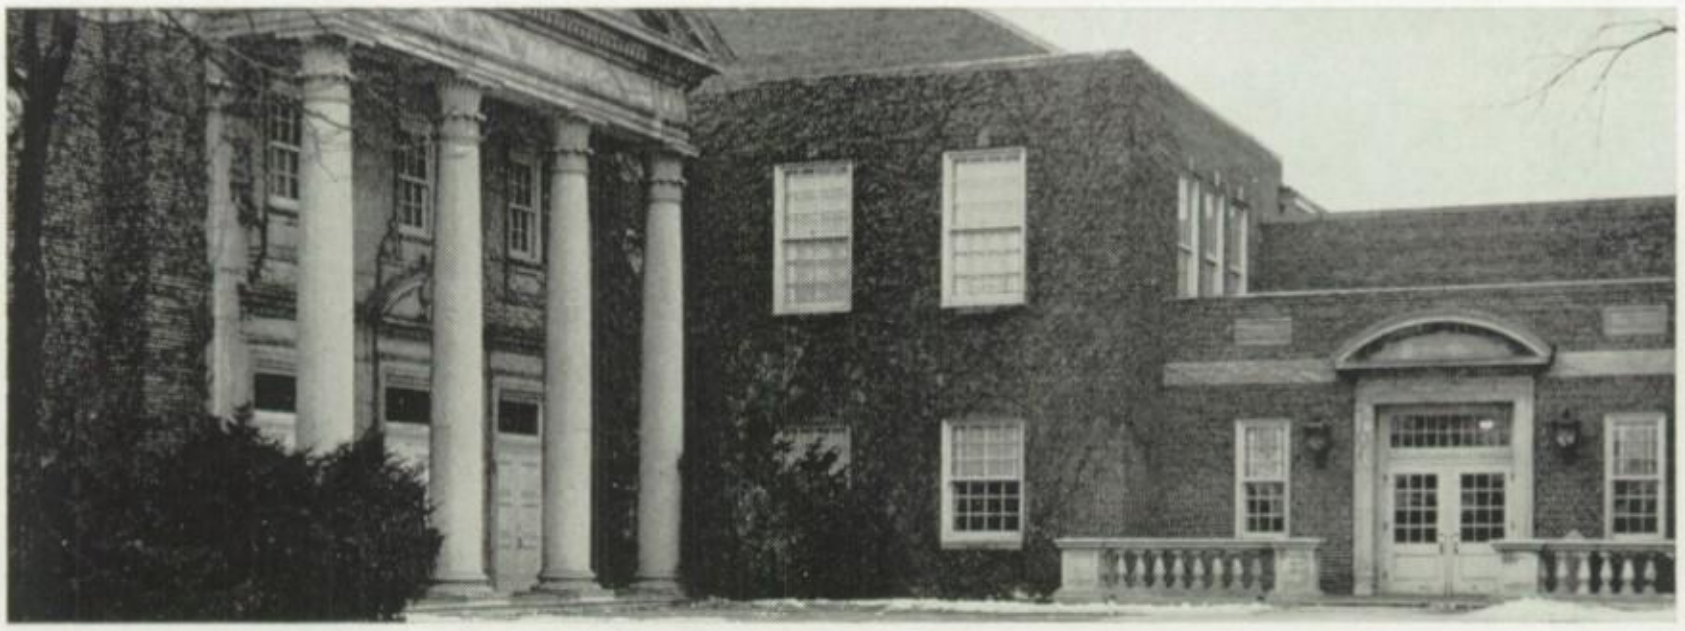
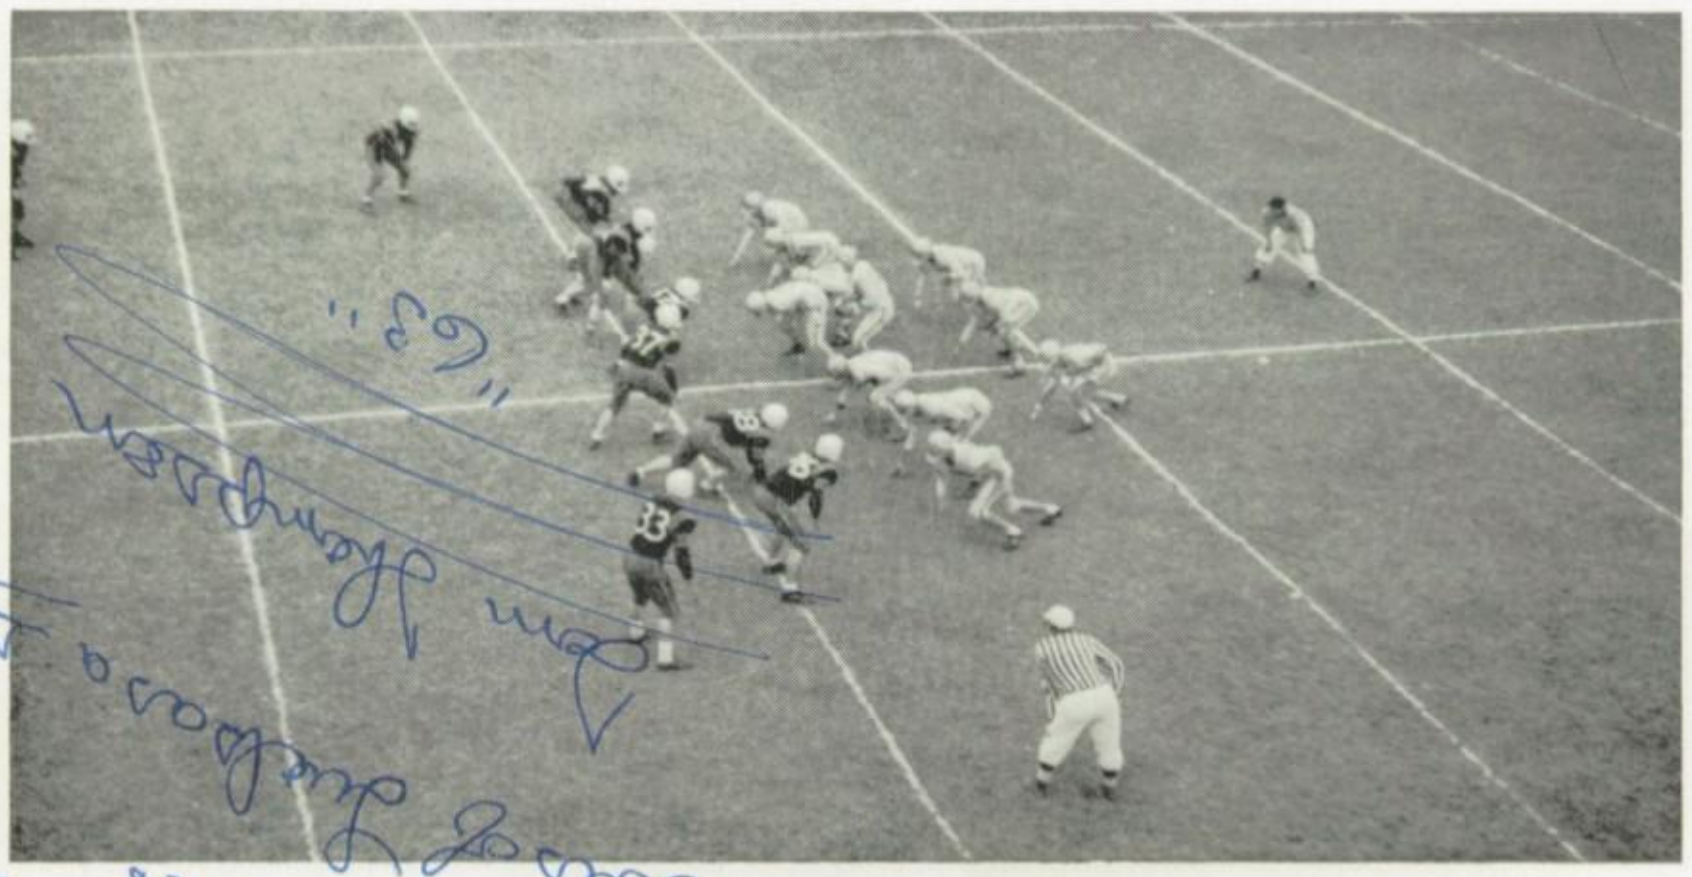
Success Is Achieved in Scholastics . . .



❖ Success is measured in terms of criteria. Programs are set up to create competition among students. At Menasha High School goals are established and attained with hard work and perseverance.

Is Earned

in Athletics . . .



Is Encouraged Through Spirit . . .

❖ The students at M.H.S. have displayed in the last year their loyalty and spirit by enthusiastically attending all football and basketball games. The cheerleaders and pep band lent an air of ceaseless spirit to the athletic events.

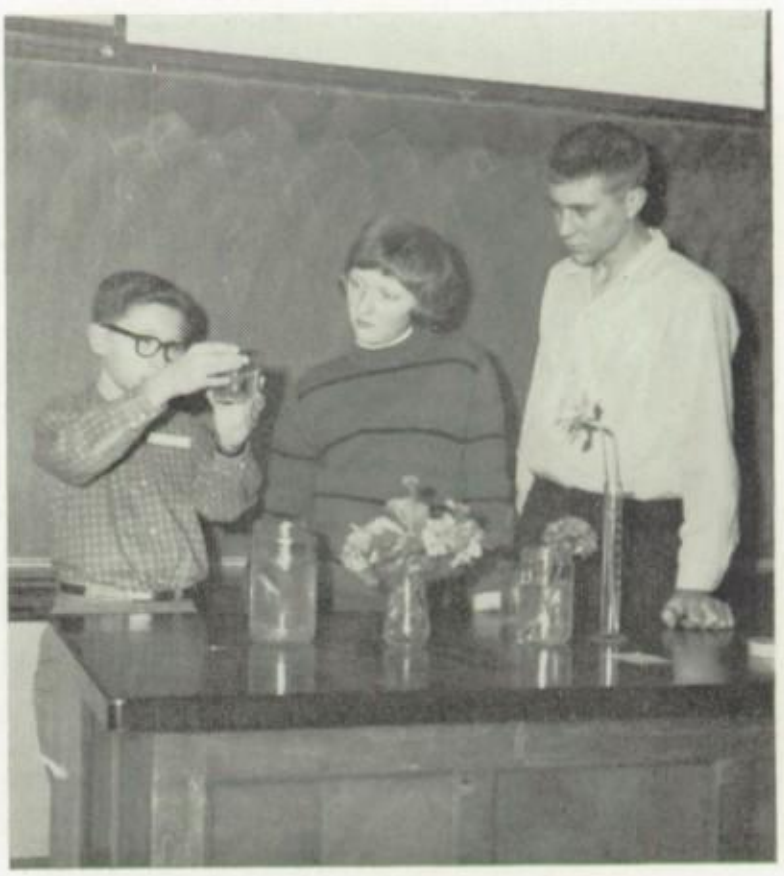
Is Celebrated after Victories . . .

❖ The spirit of homecoming was dulled somewhat by the Jay gridders' setback. The returning graduates, however, helped promote an atmosphere of gay enthusiasm that has always belonged to Menasha's homecoming festivities.

❖ Assisted by Tom Ashenbrenner and tapes that correspond to the text book now in use, the newly formed language lab has furthered the ability of students to speak and understand Spanish.

Progresses Through Experimentation . . .

❖ The age of science is upon us. One of the best ways to gather first-hand information is to work directly with the available specimens. A laboratory period in biology is the most effective way to learn by doing.



Is Reviewed . . .

❖ Constant review will prove helpful for any student in any subject. Even the brief noon hour provides time for students to catch up on their homework, prepare for their next class, or review their assignments.

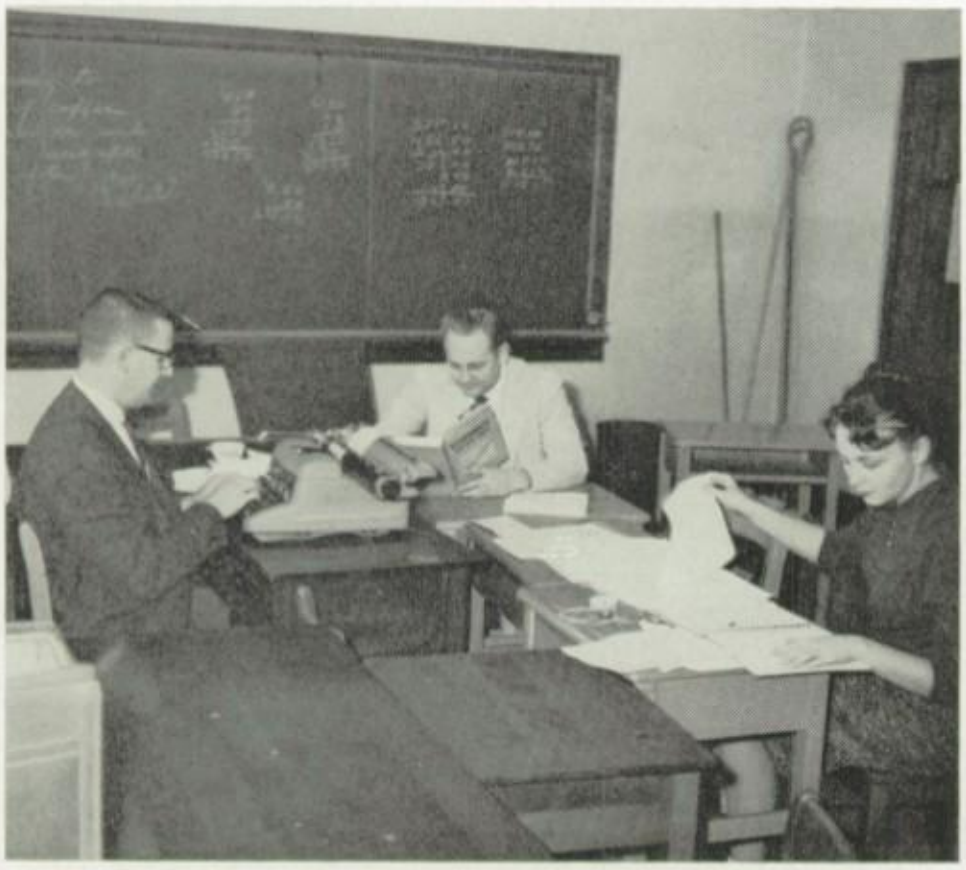
Hi Jim,

It was fun having you in Phy. Ed. this year. If you wouldn't always take up the whole seat in the locker room I might be able to get outside on time. Take it easy and good luck,

"Tom Pawlowski"

Is Practiced . . .

❖ Practice is necessary to promote success in many phases of high school life. The band spends approximately eight weeks of preparation for each concert. In addition, more time is spent individually practicing lessons and rehearsing sectionals with Mr. Wisnefski.



❖ This year the teachers have gained a workroom of their own. During their preparation period they can use its facilities to prepare for classes, to grade papers, or to type assignments.

Is Taught Successfully at M.H.S.

❖ At the Parent-Teacher Association meeting parents can meet with their children's teachers, listen to guest speakers, and discuss new educational developments. The P.T.A. is responsible for the Open House, Post Prom, and Senior Supper.

Hi Jim,

Its sure has been fun seeing you around this year. You're pretty good in Phy. Ed. Littlequiet though, but ~~that's~~ better than being a big mouth like me. Good luck to a swell kid

Administration

Our Administration Guides School Policy

MR. M. J. GEGAN, SUPERINTENDENT OF SCHOOLS

❖ Under the direction of Mr. M. J. Gegan, the Menasha Board of Education has discussed and solved many problems confronting our schools. They successfully supervised the transformation of Butte des Morts Elementary School into a junior high school. This has alleviated the crowded conditions in Menasha High school.

With the help of the Northwestern survey, the board and the faculty are endeavoring to improve the curriculum of Menasha High.

MR. L. A. WIENBERGEN, PRINCIPAL

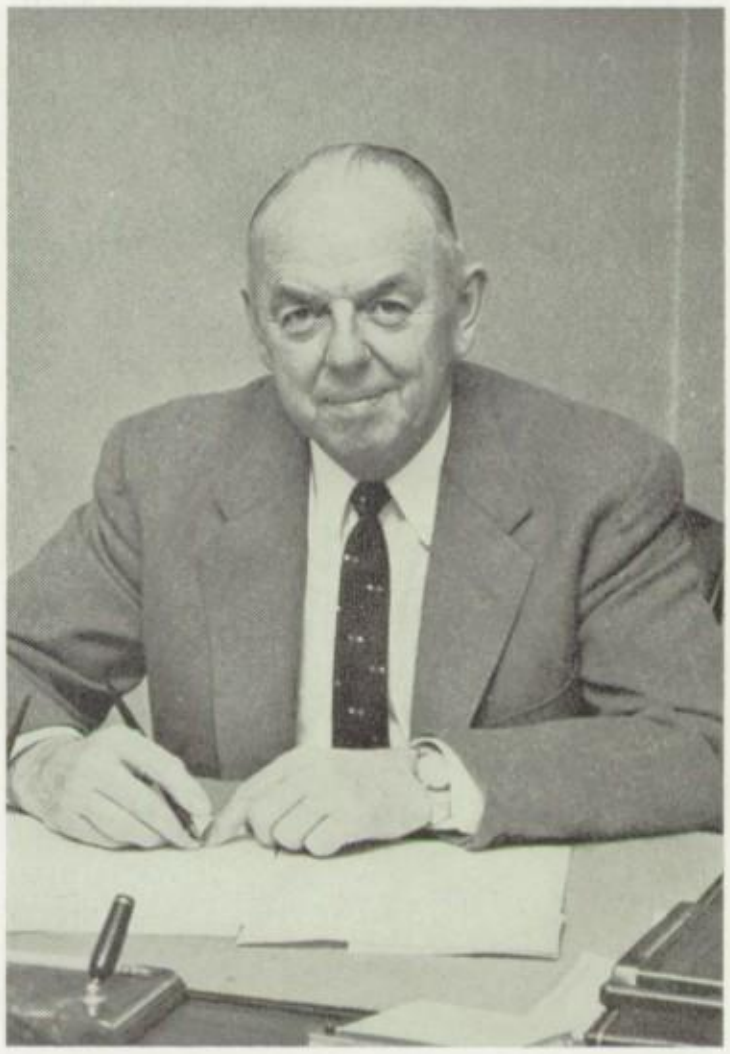
BOARD OF EDUCATION. Mr. Thomas Woodrow, Mr. Frank Rosch, Mr. Roger Fliege, Mrs. Fern Gaertner, Mr. Ted Neely, Mr. George Banta III, Mr. M. J. Gegan, superintendent, Mr. John Pawlowski, Jr.

And Directs Our Vocational Instruction

❖ Mr. H. L. Sherman, Vocational Director, works in co-operation with the Vocational teachers in providing an excellent Adult and Vocational education program.

Because Menasha is a forward moving community, the Vocational School has to keep pace by providing more high caliber classes. By increasing equipment and the number of vocational students per class room, the Vocational School program is continuing to expand.

MR. GRIFFITH dictates a letter to Miss Gavinski, secretary for the Vocational School.



MR. H. L. SHERMAN, VOCATIONAL DIRECTOR

BOARD OF VOCATIONAL EDUCATION. Mr. Meritt Clinton; Mr. Frank Robinson, president; Mr. Douglas Hyde, vice president; Mr. H. L. Sherman; Mr. W. P. Ryan, secretary; Mr. M. J. Gegan.

❖ The fine maintenance staff of Menasha High School has provided us with a very pleasing atmosphere in the classroom as well as in the halls and on the campus. Too often we as students take the clean classrooms and the year-round beauty of our campus for granted. But without the long and diligent work of our maintenance staff, none of these pleasant surroundings would be possible.

Our office staff also deserves recognition. These secretaries assist teachers as well as students by their work in the office. Typing tests, sending out bulletins, collecting fees, and performing various other clerical items are amoung the many valuable services performed by our school's secretarial staff.

The health staff is always a credit to any school and ours is no exception. The nurses and dental hygenist are always willing to be of assistance and constantly emphasize the importance of maintaining good health habits.

Miss Fahrbach, Mrs. Lindquist, Mrs. Fisher.

Mrs. Morgan, Mrs. Ebendsen, Miss Lyon.

❖ We, the class of 1962, are grateful to our many class advisers who have given us counsel and encouragement throughout our four years. Credit is also due to our class officers, who served us ably during those four years. They were: Tom Zeleske, Jane Hyde, Peggy Parker, Jim Arndt, Helen Hyson, Bill Stuck, Shirley Buksyk, Pat Kondy, Roy Fickel, Shirley Vissers, and Jack Robertson.

As we advance toward graduation, we hope that we have set an example for other students. Each member of the class of 1962 looks ahead to the fulfillment of his own vocational plans or professional ambitions. We feel that our four years at Menasha High have been rewarding.

No matter where we go or what we do, each one of us will remain a part of the class of 1962.

(1) THE SENIORS PREDICTED "We'll Sail Over Two Rivers" on their float in the Homecoming competition. (2) HAVING REVEALED high leadership abilities, Jack Robertson, Tom Steinmetz, and Trudy Schroeder attended Badger Boys and Badger Girls State in the summer of 1961.

Class of 1962

Our Senior Story–Portrait of Success

❖ The class of 1962 entered Menasha High School feeling as insecure as any previous freshman class had felt. With the help of the teachers, upper classmen, and divine patience we gradually became accustomed to our surroundings. Although our first class party was attended by only a few, it was seemingly a success. Between homework for general science and English, we prepared a pep assembly that featured the Bojarski twins in a frantic tricycle race. Under the masterful coaching of Mr. Leo Kenney, our frosh basketball team tied with Roosevelt for first place honors.

A satirical skit modeled after the Perry Mason program served as our sophomore pep rally and was one of the best things we had yet accomplished. Joining extracurricular activities filled most of our time; however, we did manage to accumulate some fine grades in academic work. Dissecting a frog may not be as tantalizing as preparing a report for Commercial Club, but it does develop steady hands and a nervous stomach.

After tedious preparation we unveiled our outstanding high school event, our prom. "Pennies from Heaven" was a task that brought us deep satisfaction as well as a wonderful evening. Another gay memory of our junior year was the "Mad Hatter" class party, which we attended wearing a wild and colorful assortment of headdresses. Prizes for original designs were awarded to Paul Nespodzany, Jane Kletzien, and Dwight Westenberger.

As seniors, we made final preparation for college or for our chosen work. Our wide participation in our Masquerade Class Party, remembered as a most joyful occasion, made our activities complete. As commencement and graduation pass before us, we stand on the threshold of our lives. We must accept the challenges of the future and seek solutions to the problems that the world delivers to us.

OUR NICOLET PHOTOGRAPHER, Mel Smith, lines up his subjects. The Jaycee Award winners being photographed for this portrait of success are Trudy Schroeder and Barbara Flom.

❖ After two struggling years we juniors have attained the title of upperclassmen. The junior class officers have led us ably through this year's various activities and our abilities of leadership and initiative have gained us top honors in the past year.

Our homecoming entry in the pep parade, "We'll Rock 'em to Victory," won first place in this year's homecoming activities and our Junior Prom was also an overwhelming success.

Bill Steffin and Roger Lawler, members of the debate team, as well as other team members, have earned victories for Menasha High School. Four of the varsity cheerleaders were also members of the junior class.

Cassie Bachhuber was elected to the office of secretary of Blue Inn and two other M.H.S. juniors, Marty Stahl and Bill Herrbold, were elected Juniors to the Blue Inn Board of Directors for the 1961-1962 season.

❖ Having shaken our "greenhorn" label, we took our place in the sophomore niche. Our obligation of hosting the "Freshman Welcome Party" was fulfilled on the initial day of our 1961-62 school year. With great amusement we watched the freshmen obediently undergo the "welcoming" process as we had done a year earlier. The music for this exciting night was furnished by Jerry Burke and his records.

The color of the Tennessee back-hill country was recaptured at our class party on Tuesday, October 24, from 7 to 10 p.m. After swimming in the pool for an hour, we danced to the records of Jerry Burke and snacked on coke and potato chips.

In the homecoming competition we placed second with the theme of "We'll Choo-Choo to Victory." Our float depicted a grinning locomotive covered with a multitude of pom-poms.

❖ During the two days prior to the opening of the 1961-1962 school year, the freshman class again participated in the Iowa Tests of Educational Development. This was a new beginning for our record class of 250. For some of our classmates, however, the corridors of Menasha High School were a familiar sight as they had attended school here in 1959.

Our class members also participated in many extracurricular activities. The class float entitled, "Raiders Try Our Layaway Plan," gained a fifth place rating. We freshmen also have the largest representation in band with fifteen members We also participate in forensics and debate. Our freshman football team ended the year with a 2-3-1 record in conference play and made an excellent showing for the class of '65.

Scholarship and Citizenship Distinguish

THE COLOR GUARDS Jack Robertson, Trudy Schroeder, Jane Hyde, Karl Telin, Clay Miller, Jayne Zielinski, Barbara Flom, and Tom Steinmetz display the American and school flags.

❖ Thirty years ago Menasha High School was granted a charter of the National Honor Society of Secondary Schools.

Achieving its purpose, the organization has created an enthusiasm for scholarship, stimulated a desire to render service, promoted leadership, and developed character in the students of Menasha High School. Those who have maintained at least a B average and have received high personality ratings may be chosen in either their junior or senior year as members of this nation-wide organization. All are aware of the honor that they have received; thus, each one strives to improve his personal traits.

The light of knowledge found on the National Honor Society pin is symbolic of the aims of the institution.

Today the organization is growing and continually gaining recognition in the high schools of America.

MEDAL WINNERS. Standing: Dennis Doverspike, Sue Buestrin, Roy Fickel. Seated: Karen McKinnon, Trudy Schroeder, Barbara Flom.

❖ Each year the English Department awards an English Medal to a sophomore, junior, and senior. Sophomore Karen McKinnon, junior Sue Buestrin, and senior Nikki Rosenthal have received these awards. A similar award for notable skill with the Latin language is the George Dewey Barnes Latin Medal which was presented to Trudy Schroeder.

Stressing the importance of science today, the Science Department awarded Roy Fickel the Chemistry Award for his achievements in this course. As a result of his well-rounded knowledge of all aspects of science, Wayne Beck received the All Science Award.

After completing an excellent record in geometry, Dennis Doverspike was awarded the Geometry Medal. Accomplishing an outstanding background in all branches of mathematics, Barbara Flom was the recipient of the Mathematics Association of America Award.

Noted as good speakers, Carla Gear and Joel Kimmell were chosen to be the Commencement speakers.

EXCHANGE STUDENT Stella Skembri proudly shows her class ring, which was presented to her at the annual Christmas program, to Student Senate President Laura Thorne.

❖ Student Senate began the year by electing their officers. The following students were elected: Laura Thorne, president; Jane Hyde, vice president; Shirley Vissers, secretary; and Phil Strong, treasurer. These officers directed the Senate's various projects and activities. As the year progressed, Senators managed the Homecoming dance, the class and Senate elections, the high school open house, and the parents' nights after sports activities.

This year's Student Senate sponsored a foreign exchange student, Stella Skembri. Stella, who has brightened the corridors and classrooms of Menasha High, has won the admiration and affection of those who have associated with her. Since this program has been so rewarding to the student body and the faculty, the Senate is again endeavoring to finance a foreign exchange student. Its first successful venture was an all school "Crunch Day." Carrots were sold on a competitive basis during the seventh hour. The juniors with 211% barely beat the seniors who had 209%. The sophomores and freshmen came in third and fourth respectively. The American Veterans of Foreign Wars, the Red Cross, and the needy people of Neenah-Menasha who received canned goods at Christmas can thank our Student Senate for its generous support.

The student body greatly appreciated the fine Student Senate calendars which listed important dates and events for each month of the school year.

The lyceum programs, which presented such outstanding features as the General Electric Science Show and speaker, Mr. Don Lonie, are chosen annually by the Senate.

While helping with school service, Student Senators gain knowledge of government, develop speaking ability, and learn practical information that can benefit them throughout their lives.

POPULAR WITH THE STUDENT BODY were the calendars being run off here by Debbie Biggers and Keith Larson. Senators rotated this duty among the membership for the entire school year.

OUR 1961 HOMECOMING QUEEN, Trudy Schroeder, registers delight as she adjusts her crown at the "Pigskin Prance" while King Tom Zeleske looks on admiringly.

❖ Excitement and enthusiasm mounted as the Homecoming festivities were about to commence. Scheduled for Thursday evening, the parade had been postponed because of rain. At 6:30 Friday evening crowds of Menasha residents lined the streets in anticipation of the colorful pep parade. Following the M.H.S. band, the gaily decorated floats wound their way toward the football field.

Winning first place, the junior float, with the theme "We'll Rock 'em to Defeat," consisted of a gigantic cradle complete with infant made of crepe paper and Blue Jay gridders rocking the cradle. Second place went to the sophomores who featured an old-fashioned train with the slogan "We'll Leave Them in Our Tracks." Third place was won by the senior entry with the clever theme "We'll sail over Two Rivers."

After the parade Menasha fans gathered in the stands at Butte Des Morts field for the long-awaited game. Queen Trudy Schroeder and her attendents, Jeanne Anderson and Lynn Pawlowski, were presented with corsages by Mayor John Klein. School spirit soared as the Blue Jays performed commendably.

The ensuing Homecoming dance was held in the M.H.S. gymnasium, appropriately decorated by the Student Senate members, where the homecoming Court of Honor was later introduced. Climaxing the festivities, Coach Emmett Boyce crowned Tom Zeleske and Trudy Schroeder king and queen of the 1961 Homecoming "Pigskin Prince."

MARY LYNN PAWLOWSKI and Rodney Klutz represented the Sophomore Class in the Homecoming Queen's Court.

WINNER OF THE FIRST PRIZE in the float competition was the Junior Class entry which depicted a cradle predicting "We'll Rock 'em to Defeat."

The Two Nicolet Staffs Work Efficiently

NICOLET LITERARY STAFF. Standing: Jakowski, Krysiak, Wojahn, Metoxen, Stuck, Wilterding, O'Brien. Seated: Schroeder, Flom, Robertson, Mollon, Geil, Platt.

A HIGH-LEVEL CONFERENCE takes place during the sixth hour Nicolet period among co-editors Linda Mollon and Jack Robertson and advisors Mr. Johnson and Mr. Woolf.

❖ A student who assumes the responsibilities of working on the Nicolet staff is confronted with many problems. These problems, however, are overcome as the person begins to master the technique of writing copy, headlines, and captions. He must also be an accurate proofreader.

As the staff member begins his duties, he finds the assignments somewhat difficult. He is amazed by the numerous terms he must come to know and understand before he can efficiently fulfill his role as a Nicolet staff member. However, with the understanding of his fellow classmates and the adviser, he soon feels he is a contribution to the staff.

Early in the year the students must decide upon a theme and the design for the cover.

The literary staff works hard throughout the year in order to provide M. H. S. students with a 1962 Nicolet that they may display with pride and pleasure.

In Meeting Their Demanding Deadlines

NICOLET BUSINESS STAFF. Standing: Cook, Warrick, Waskiewicz, Domro, Gooding. Seated: Smith, Parker, Vissers, Buksyk, Bojarski, Roessler.

❖ The members of the Nicolet business staff meet every sixth hour so that they may complete their section of the yearbook. Their first duty is to solicit ads from various business firms in Menasha, Appleton, and Neenah.

After they have drawn up the ad dummy, they earnestly publicize the 1962 Nicolet in hopes that every student will purchase a yearbook. With the completion of sales, the staff encounters still more responsibilities. They must organize the advertising directory and write the copy for the acknowledgment.

When these assignments have been completed, the members of the staff can relax for a while, but soon the students of M.H.S. are wondering when they will receive their yearbook. The staff caters to their wishes in the spring as they distribute the 1962 Nicolet. They are proud of their section and realize that the final product was worth their efforts.

BUSINESS MANAGER Jim Cook and staff Adviser Mr. Meyer look on as Mr. Segebarth, Printing Adviser, reviews past Nicolet ad sections with an eye to 1962 innovations.

Accuracy and Efficiency Have Keynoted

HAVING COMPLETED ONE ISSUE, editors Barbara Flom and Trudy Schroeder with photographer Mark Wilterding consult Miss Bienfang on plans for the next.

❖ Every morning at 8:00 A. M. the Blue Jay editors convene in Room 203 to set about the task of planning the school newspaper. These editors have been carefully selected for their promptness, diligence, and most of all, for their willingness to work. They carefully proof read galleys to make sure all printing errors are corrected, assigned articles, and plan their various sections of the paper.

The Blue Jay is published and printed tri-weekly in our own printing department and the students eagerly await each issue. Miss Bienfang, the adviser of the paper, offers suggestions to the editors concerning articles for their particular section of the Blue Jay.

Credit must also be given to the printers as they are familiar figures often seen going into Room 203 to talk with Miss Bienfang on the type of print and deadlines of galleys. Mr. Woolf and Mr. Segebarth are advisers to the printers.

The Journalistic Efforts of the Blue Jay

❖ To be a Blue Jay reporter is both a privilege and an honor. Extensive work is put into the preparation of an article and the students who act as reporters and as feature writers for the newspaper find it very rewarding to see their articles in print. Many of the reporters work up to the position of editor and their experience in reporting is very helpful.

The Blue Jay typists also may obtain honorable positions on the Blue Jay staff. Many become editors. This past year some freshman and sophomore students acted as reporters and gained valuable experience for working on the paper in future school years.

The Quill and Scroll award is one which may be earned by a Blue Jay staff member who is either a junior or a senior at M.H.S. During the year they also must have written fifty inches of acceptable copy and they must rank in the upper one third of their class.

Juniors Coined "Pennies from Heaven"

KING JACK AND QUEEN JANE VIEW THE ROYAL SEPTER.

❖ "Pennies from Heaven" glistened while happy couples watched King Jack Robertson and Queen Jane Kletzien walk through gardens of flowers to their throne. Preceding their entry was the court of Honor consisting of Pat Kondy and George Grantin, Shirley Buksyk and Dan Domro, and Laura Thorne and Roy Fickel. Bob Lang and Katy Christman, the 1960 king and queen, crowned the royal couple. Our Queen, with her ever-present smile, wore a white formal made of layers of lace and carried a fragrant colonial bouquet of blue and white roses.

Entertainment was furnished by Bob Gutchow's coronet solo, "Trumpeter's Lullaby," and Wally Olson's piano selection, "Last Date."

As Their Theme for the 1961 Promenade

Before the Prom officially began, we started the gaiety of April 28 at various house parties. When we arrived at "Pennies from Heaven," we were impressed by the attractive decorations—the colorful fountain, the picturesque sidewalk cafe, the field of gigantic golden pennies, and the romantic garden lane. We could see that long hours of tedious effort had gone into the Junior Class event.

After witnessing the coronation, dancing to the rhythmic music of the "Balladairds," and being entertained by Master of Ceremonies, Tom Zeleske, we left to attend "Gidget Goes Hawaiian" at the Brin theater. Later at the Post-Prom Party, held at the Elk's Club, dance-weary couples rested in a tranquil atmosphere before ending what had been a marvelous, gala evening.

DRUM MAJOR Jane Kletzien and majorettes Kathleen Endter, Sue Riehl, and Linda Mollon proudly display their uniforms.

❖ This year's band was under the direction of Mr. Donald Wisnefski, who replaced Mr. Gerald Mattern. Originally from Menasha, Mr. Wisnefski was a band instructor in the schools of the southwestern section of Wisconsin.

The fall months found the 53 piece band engaged in early marching practices in preparation for half-time football programs.

The band scored an entertainment first by appearing on television. They demonstrated their versatility by presenting a program depicting a musical calendar.

The pep band practiced diligently throughout the basketball season. Mr. Wisnefski, with the help of student-director and band president, Jim Schutkowski, introduced several new pep songs.

Through sectionals and individual lessons, the band played their class "A" festival numbers with commendable skill.

❖ Lights of the Menasha High School auditorium dim; a hush falls over the audience; the curtain swings open; a spotlight sets its beam upon thirty members of the Menasha High School Choir; vocal director, Mrs. Doverspike, walks across the stage and prepares to guide the chorus in "Sing Praises." She signals to her accompanist to begin; soon, voices blend majestically in rhythmical precision.

Throughout the year the choir participates in a vocal music festival, a Christmas Concert, and a Spring Concert along with the Girls' Sextet and the newly-formed Double Trio.

On Sunday, January 7, 1962, all the vocal groups participated in a half-hour radio program over station WNAM in Neenah. A member of the student body, Mark Tummett, narrated the program.

❖ Since a Madrigal consists of only sixteen members, it has a fine distinction from other singing groups. However, the Madrigal group at Menasha High is composed of more than sixteen people. Because only sixteen people are allowed to sing when the group performs, each member finds the experience both rewarding and challenging. Contrary to popular belief, the quality of the group is not hindered by its quantity. When singing without any accompaniment, it is difficult to achieve close harmony, which is the main objective of the group. It is customary that Madrigal groups sing seated around a table.

The Menasha High School Madrigal is under the direction of Mrs. Alberta Doverspike. It meets in the auditorium every Monday and Wednesday for rehearsals.

Among its activities, the Madrigal participated in the state festival at Madison and the district festival in Sheboygan. It also took part in the Christmas and Spring Concerts held in the auditorium.

THE CLARINET TRIO composed of Jane Kletzien, Sue Platt, and Linda Mollon performs its festival selection at the student recital.

GOING OVER SOME of their musical scores before their performance in the festival are the accompanists, Penny Fujko and Barbara Sitter.

❖ This year the Girls Glee Club participated in the district festival at Sheboygan and performed at the Christmas Concert and Spring Concert. Long practices after school and at night went into the perfection of their selections which were rendered very well. Some of the members were eligible for competition in the state festival in Madison after performing a solo, duet, trio, or quartet and gaining a first place rating in "A" class at the district festival. All selections had to be memorized.

Many of the members participated in recitals which gave them valuable experience in performing before an audience. These recitals were held in the activities room every third Monday of the month.

By participating in Girls Glee Club a girl may earn valuable points which can be counted toward an award in her senior year. Mrs. Doverspike is the group's director and the accompanists are Barbara Sitter and Penny Fujko.

❖ If a boy is unable to participate in chorus, then the Boys Glee Club is a good organization for him to join. Through this extracurricular activity, he can still have the opportunity for group singing. The club is composed of ninth through twelfth grade boys who have an interest in singing. The boys practice once a week during noon hour with their director Mrs. Alberta Doverspike. They perform a variety of songs ranging from folksongs to religious songs. In this way, the programs which the boys perform have an interesting variety.

As a feature of the Christmas concert the boys performed "Go Tell It on the Mountain" in which Bob Klapper was featured as soloist. Many ensembles have emerged from this group and a few performed at Madison where they entered competition with other state vocal groups. This proved to be a good experience for boys who might plan to further their music education.

COMMERCIAL CLUB OFFICERS are Jane Jakowski, president; Carol Gavinski, vice president; Lu Ann Collins, secretary; and Judy Zimmerman, treasurer.

❖ The Commercial Club offers M.H.S. junior and senior girls an opportunity to become acquainted with the ways of the business world. Speakers from various firms inform the girls of newly-created areas of business into which they may expand.

Many social events were included in the Commercial Club's schedule. The girls sampled each other's culinary skills at the annual Christmas party. During the spring banquet the girls had a chance to display the new techniques of etiquette they had learned with the assistance of Miss Loebe.

Under the capable leadership of Commercial Club advisers, Miss Daisy Acker and Miss Arlisle Wolff, the girls gain much poise. The advisers also help the girls to acquire other qualities necessary for a successful life in the business field.

With the experience and knowledge gained in the Commercial Club, the girls are ready to undertake the business responsibilities they encounter after graduation.

❖ The Future Teachers of America Club serves as an explorative organization for M.H.S. students interested in a teaching career. Students definitely planning to enter this profession gain experience and training by participating in the club's various activities. Those students who are merely considering the teaching profession also find the opportunity to examine it thoroughly.

This year F.T.A. members participated in several educational activities. During the fall they attended a business meeting of Neenah High School's F.T.A. in order to exchange ideas. Later in the year the members toured Oshkosh State College and attended a panel discussion which explored the different phases of a teaching career. Social activities were also included in their agenda. Among these were two pizza parties and a picnic.

As members of the Future Teachers of America Club, they may apply their abilities to educational and social activities.

❖ Under the leadership of advisers Mr. Woolf and Mr. Segebarth and officers Dick Deeg, Tom Zeleske, and Noel Fredrickson, the Menasha High School Printers Club has taken part in various activities.

The annual Christmas party was held at the Y.W.C.A. in Neenah. Upon their arrival, the guests were greeted by the officers. They participated in group games and were served refreshments.

The Printers Club recognized January 14-20 as International Printing Week during which they honored the 256th anniversary of Benjamin Franklin's birth.

It has been a custom that the members of the club visit various printing firms in the area to create a better understanding of how industry functions. It has also been traditional for the Printers Club to hold a banquet and this year was no exception.

The aim of the Printers Club is to promote interest and knowledge in printing.

❖ With the increasing emphasis on science, groups such as the M.H.S. Science Club are becoming vitally important in giving future scientists the experience necessary for this field. To widen their understanding, members have participated in many worthwhile activities.

The students found a tour of the Lake View Mill division of Kimberly Clark interesting as well as enlightening. The science club also engaged a speaker who explained various phases of soil conservation. Two movies, open to the student body, were also sponsored by this club. Other activities planned by the members were a tour of the Menasha Sewage Disposal Plant and a field trip to the Museum of Science and Industry in Chicago.

The officers who guided the group throughout these various activities were Roger Lawler, Jerry Weisgerber, Judy Lewandowski, and George Bauman. Mr. Witchell was the group's adviser.

❖ Under the guidance of Mr. Long, the Student Operators Club performs various tasks involving the operation and use of the movie projectors, tape recorders, and opaque projectors.

The Student Operators Club ably assists teachers throughout the year in helping to bring visual and audio teaching aids for the students of Menasha High.

Serving this year as officers of the Student Operators Club were Ron Belau, president; Harold Asmus, vice president; and Keith Hartley, secretary-treasurer. Meetings were held every Tuesday.

Giving unselfishly of their time, the student operators develop abilities and understanding of important machines while they learn the value of co-operating with teachers as well as with each other.

While widening their own interests in the field of machinery, student operators are providing a useful service to their classmates and their teachers.

THE MASONS, Trudy Schroeder, Ed Kubicka, Craig Warrick, and Debbie Biggers, and neighbor George Massey enjoy breakfast.

❖ In keeping with traditional standards of former years, the 1961-1962 school year was again extremely successful for the Menasha High School Jay Players. Mr. Dalton Schoening ably directed their two dramatic presentations.

On November 21, 1961, at eight o'clock in the school auditorium, the thespians enacted the three-act mystery, "Shadow of Suspicion." Revealing the moral obligations of a community to its inhabitants, the story centered around a teen-age boy falsely accused of murder and his fight with the help of family and friends to prove his innocence.

After a short respite the group began preparation for the spring play which was given March 20. "When your father was your age, he was the hardest working boy in school." "Your father always made the best grades . . . You expect to be an architect like your father and you're failing in algebra!" These quotes reveal "The Defiance of David Charles."

MRS. GOSKA, listens to the play reading group composed of Schomer, Biggers, Sheleski, Dreyer, and LeRoy. In the back row are Hedberg, Martin, and Stein.

❖ Interpretive or extemporaneous reading, humorous or serious declamations, orations, extemporaneous speaking, and play reading are a few of the exciting fields of challenge for the members of the Menasha High School Forensics teams.

Mr. Herziger not only guided the elimination of the divisions but also directed the schedule of competition for the activities. The season opened with a speech clinic conducted by Oshkosh State College. Here forensics participants were briefed on the rules governing the contests and were given a few tips on successful oratory methods.

Through hard work and excellent guidance, the teams ended a very successful season. Lois Halversen and Bill Steffin represented Menasha at State where Bill again earned an "A" rating.

Federal Aid to Education Is Debate Topic

BILL STEFFIN AND ROGER LAWLER, three year debate veterans, go over their topic presentation for the "A" debate team.

OTHER "A" TEAM MEMBERS Pat Kenney and Christine Kuehn look up some words for their speeches in the dictionary.

❖ Although most students spent their Saturdays in leisure time, members of the Menasha High School debate team earnestly engaged in verbal conflict concerning the proposition, Resolved: That the Federal Government should equalize educational opportunities by means of grants to states for public, elementary, and secondary education.

At the beginning of the year the "B" team lacked the skill of the "A" team, but through diligent work and practice they improved considerably. From a final score of six losses and no wins at their first meet, they gradually advanced to a meet where they compiled a record of all wins.

As a climax to the season, the "A" debaters, Roger Lawler, Bill Steffin, Pat Kenney, and Christine Kuehn, appeared on television Saturday, February 7.

MEMBERS OF THE G.A.A. find pleasure in a game of basketball.

❖ Under the guidance of Miss Schultz, G.A.A. officers, Linda Mollon, Pat Remmel, Carol Kichefski, and Diane Daczyk directed a variety of team and individual sports activities. They were assisted by the individual sports chairmen who planned the games for the club's 104 members.

The different activities introduce the value of good sportsmanship, provide healthful recreation, and further the athletic ability of the participants.

Although the teams endeavored to win their games, members of Senior I, Sue Wilfling, Janet Keberlein, Lois Metoxen, Sue Platt, Barbara Woyak, Carolyn Zilisch, and Judy Weyenberg, finished the semester by being undefeated champions of the volleyball and soccerball events.

Girls' Goal Is To Create School Spirit

❖ During the past year the Pep Club, with the helpful supervision of Miss Schultz, has inspired the Menasha High School student body to support the various sports and other school activities. To start the year of events, they successfully took charge of the pep parade celebration for Homecoming. Although rain caused a delay in the parade, the final moments before the event showed the well-planned organization by the club members.

The scheduling of the numerous pep sessions, rotated among the classes and held throughout the year, was another responsibility left in the dependable hands of the Pep Club. Various signs and posters were displayed in the corridors to arouse interest throughout the student body and to elevate school spirit. It can definitely be said that the organization has done its share in promoting interest and enthusiasm in our various school activities.

THE PEP CLUB OFFICERS of the 1961-1962 season included Lorraine Holewinski, treasurer; Kris Gajewski, vice president; Judy Zimmerman, president; and Lois Schliem, secretary.

❖ The intramural basketball games were held on Tuesday evenings and Fridays after school. Under the direction of Mr. Reinke and Mr. Pelegrin approximately ninety boys participated in the program.

Because of the large turnout for intramurals this year, two leagues were established. Eight teams of juniors and seniors composed the major league, while four teams of sophomores and freshmen made up the minor league. Tom Zeleske's Colts and David Swiecichowski's Buzzards won the championships in the major and minor leagues respectively.

Major league captains were Jack Robertson, Moles; John Ashenbrenner, Bears; Pete Sorensen, Muskrats; Tom Zeleske, Colts; Dan Domro, Oxen; Clay Miller, Moose; Bill Stuck, Trojans; and Tony Slomski, Rams.

The captains of the minor division were Dennis LaCount, Hawks; George Bauman, Falcons; David Swiecichowski, Buzzards; and Jerome Weisgerber, Vultures.

❖ The initial meeting of the Menasha M Club, a service organization composed of those athletes who have earned a major letter, for this school season was a picnic at Jefferson Park. Last year's president, Bill Ritchie, turned the M Club plaque over to the new president, Jack Robertson. The other officers are Tom Steinmetz, vice president, and Jim Cook, secretary-treasurer, with Mr. Clem Massey as their adviser.

In order to purchase a much needed whirlpool bath for the school, the M Club sponsored dances after athletic events and exhibition basketball games. The club also donates the trophies which are given to the outstanding athlete of each graduating class.

For its next project the M Club hopes to hold a Varsity Variety show, similar to the Blue Jay Revue.

Varsity Players Set Record With 32-6 Win

MOST VALUABLE PLAYER JIM COOK and Co-captains Jack Robertson and Bob Opsahl talk over some of the highlights of the past season.

❖ In a post season election Jim Cook was voted the most valuable player of the year. Bob Opsahl and Jack Robertson were chosen as co-captains

Jim Cook started his football career in eighth grade by serving on the freshman squad as a fullback. In his sophomore year Jim was switched to guard and kept the position through his junior and senior years.

Bob Opsahl proved to be a versatile football player by ably handling the duties of every position in the backfield. Midway in his senior year Bob was moved to quarterback where he proved to be an able field general.

Jack Robertson, a five year veteran, has been a valuable asset to the football team. Throughout his football career Jack has played almost every position in the front wall. Although suffering a knee laceration in practice, Jack made a hasty comeback and was able to play for the remainder of the year.

Injury-Riddled Season Hampers the Jays

MENASHA'S "ARNIE" ENZ and Bob Opsahl stop the Two Rivers quarterback for a short gain.

❖ Under the leadership of head coach Emmett Boyce and assistant coach Leo Kenney, the Menasha Blue Jays posted a 1-6 record in the Mid-Eastern Conference.

Against the powerful offense of the Neenah Rockets, the Menashans bowed 46-7. When the Blue Jays visited New London, the Bulldogs handed the blue and white their second conference loss. At the first home game the Kimberly Papermakers defeated the Jays. In a thrilling contest with the Shawano Indians, Menasha lost on the last play of the game 13-7. The Two Rivers Raiders dimmed Menasha's hopes for a successful homecomming game by routing the blue and white 32-19.

When the varsity visited Clintonville, they trampled the Truckers by a score of 32-6, the highest mark in five years. The Kaukauna Ghosts, conference champs, defeated the Jays by a score of 38-0 to end the football season.

Freshmen Gridders Show A Promising Future

❖ Although they had an inexperienced football squad, the Baby Blues earned a 2-3-1 conference rating. From the first practice in early fall to the last game in November the Blue Jays, under the guidance of head coach VandenBoogaard and assistant coach Massey, continually worked to improve their standing.

By earning a 2-3-1 record the Jays accumulated one of the best ratings in freshman play. After losing their first three games to Kimberly, Madison Junior High, and Neenah, they won their last two games and tied the other. Defeating Wilson and Roosevelt in two successive weeks, the Baby Blues then climaxed the season by tying their last game with Kaukauna. Because of the frosh team's willingness and determination to work, the varsity coaches can look forward to an up-and-coming football team.

Jays Score Tourney Upset Win Over Neenah

"THROW ME A PASS," says Tom Steinmetz to quarterback Mark Pawlowski as Bob Opsahl leads interference against Manitowoc's cagers.

❖ Under the direction of Coach Clem Massey, the Menasha High School basketball squad collected five victories against nine losses in Mid-Eastern conference competition. The Bluejays compiled an overall record of eight wins and thirteen defeats.

In conference play the Bluejays snatched victories from powerful Kimberly, Shawano, and two from Kaukauna. In the Kimberly contest the Jays were down by thirteen points in the third quarter. The determined Jays then put on their characteristic full-court press and came through with a 73-67 victory.

In the WIAA sub-regional tournament Menasha met always tough Hortonville but won easily by a 68-50 score. The next opponent was sixth-ranked Neenah, conference champions and potential state champions. Neenah had everything in its favor. They had defeated the Jays twice during the season—once by twenty-eight points and once by fifteen points—and were playing in their own gym. The outcome of the game—Menasha 64 and Neenah 63. The greatest margin was a seven point lead by Neenah midway through the third quarter. Hopes were then looking dim for the upset-minded Jays. When Tom Steinmetz and Mark Pawlowski had to leave the game on fouls, these hopes became dimmer. Then junior guard Tom Konkol turned a 61-58 Menasha deficit into a 64-63 Menasha victory by scoring six straight points in the last 57 seconds to bring Menasha its greatest victory in many years. Moving into playoff, Menasha was beaten by a good Oshkosh team.

Tom Steinmetz led the Jays in scoring and rebounding. He was named to the conference first team. Tom was well aided by Bob Opsahl, Bill Herrbold, Dean Ristau, and Mark Pawlowski. Since there were only three seniors, Coach Massey will have a veteran team to guide next year.

❖ Under the tutoring of Coach Boyce, the Menasha High School Junior Varsity charges compiled an overall record of six and twelve. With four victories in fourteen games, they finished in the second division of the conference. Two scrappy guards, Barry Conway and Bob Wendt, led the team in scoring while Rolf Berg, Dick Wachter, and Jim Walter controlled the boards. Pat Kenney and Keith Larson proved capable reserves as they scored many clutch points.

The jayvees upset victory over Neenah ranked as the highlight of the season. Although Neenah had a distinct height advantage, Menasha's agile sophomores came through with an exciting triumph.

The major weakness of the Junior Jay's was their lack of height. However, they more than made up for this disadvantage with cat-like quickness which enabled them to grab rebounds from these taller opponents.

❖ Coach Leo Kenney's 1962 freshman squad finished the season with a highly respectable 9-3 record. The yearlings won seven and lost three in Fox Valley Conference competition for a tie with Wilson Junior High School of Appleton for second place. In addition to the seven well-earned conference victories, the Baby Blues won easily from Fox Valley Lutheran and St. John Little Chute. In this game and the following game with Kimberly, the yearlings rolled up two of the highest freshman basketball scores. In these two games the Jays rolled up 153 points, an average of almost 77 points per game.

The Baby Blues were led by Rick Zimmerman, Dick Slattery, Dick Sorenson, Dan Hanson, and Terry Haack. Zimmerman, the leading scorer, was closely followed by Slattery and Sorenson. Slattery was the leading rebounder while Haack and Hanson added greatly to the team with their scrappy, all-around play.

After Experiencing A Well-Played Season

❖ After experiencing an action-packed season, the Menasha Blue Jay baseball team tied for first place in the Mid-Eastern Conference with Clintonville and Neenah. Menasha ended its hard-played season with a 5-2 conference record by outscoring Clintonville, Kaukauna, Neenah, Kimberly, and New London, and meeting defeat at the hands of Shawano and Two Rivers.

Bill Prange was Menasha's leading pitcher, establishing a 6-2 record in both conference and non conference play. Most Valuable Player, Bill Neubauer, was picked season captain in a pre-season election and Bob Shukoski led the Blue Jays in hitting.

In tournament play Menasha whipped Winneconne 20-3, but they lost their second game to Kimberly 4-2.

Eight members of the team were lost through graduation, but this year many skillful undergraduates were available to fill in the ranks.

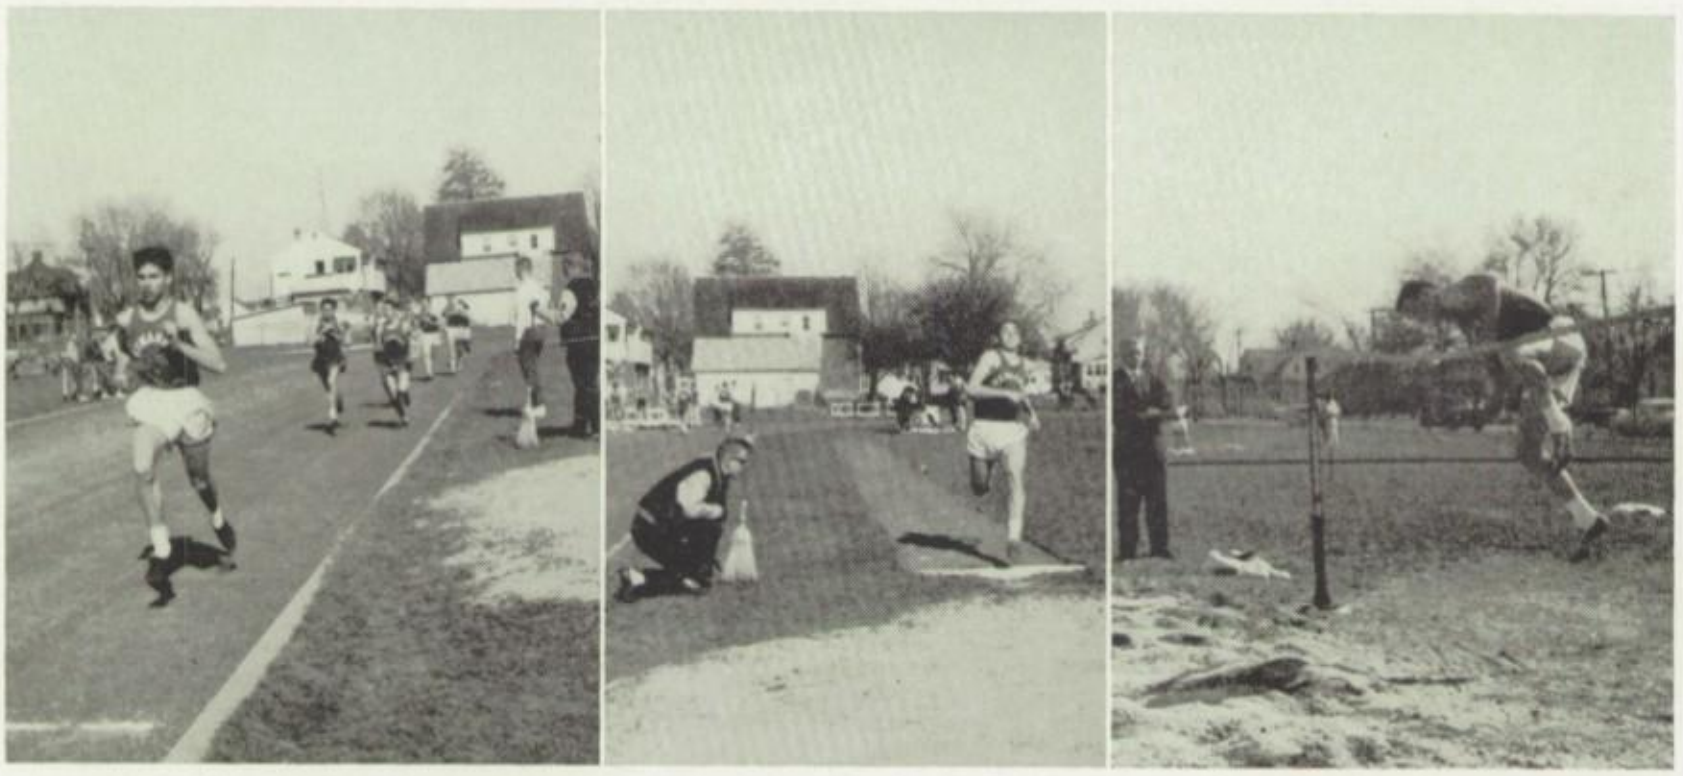
❖ Throughout the course of the spring season Menasha's track team, paced by Steve Hanchett and Dave Ristau, proved to be rugged competitors. Menasha participated in three dual and two triangular meets, taking one first and four second places.

The highlight of the season came when Steve Hanchett broke Tom Hyde's long standing record in the 100 yard dash. Tom's previous record was 10.1 seconds which Steve broke with a speedy 10 seconds flat. At the conference meet at Neenah, Dave Ristau and Steve Hanchett came in first and second respectively in the 100 yard dash and Steve took a first in the 220. At the sectional meet Steve finished with a second in the 220 and thus qualified for the state meet at Milwaukee. Although he did not place in the 220, Steve was the first student from Menasha High to go to a class "A" track meet in Milwaukee.

STEVE HANCHETT IS CONGRATULATED by his teammates and spectators on his new record for the 100 yard dash.

M.H.S. Cindermen Prove To Be Rugged Foes



(1) GEORGE SCOVRONSKI sprints for a first in the 880 run. (2) TOM STEINMETZ attempts to set a new mark in the broad jump. (3) DICK WACHTER strains as he clears the high jump bar.

WHILE PAUL NESPODZANY is competing in the discus event, Terry Linden warms up in the background.

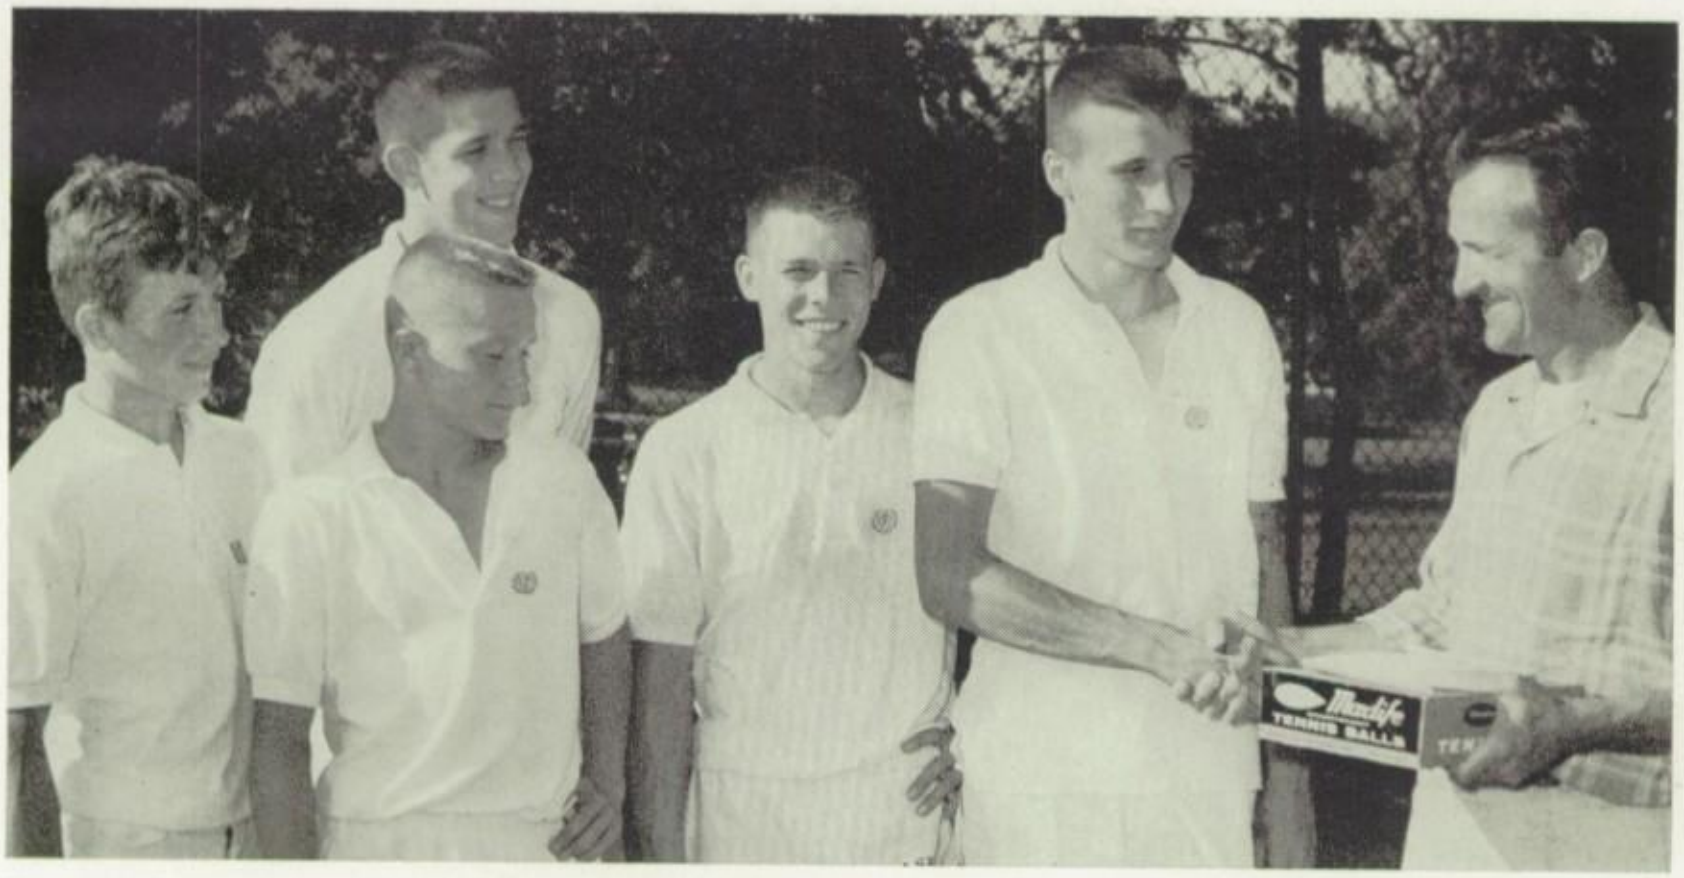
BARRY CONWAY readies himself for one of his patented forehands.

Tennis Team Wins Mid-East Conference Title



THE TOP FIVE JAY NETTERS receive congratulations for their superior play from Coach Leo Kenney. They are B. Conway, No. 1; Kenney, No. 3; Ritchie, No. 5; Bertram, No. 4; and Arft, No. 2.

❖ The Menasha Tennis Squad again came up with a very successful season posting a hard-fought, well-earned, 13-2 record. Coach Leo Kenney's netmen suffered their only losses to highly-rated Neenah and Manitowoc. They ended the regular season in a conference tie for first place with Neenah. In the playoff the determined Jays whipped their cross-town rivals by a 5-2 score.

Last year's squad was not led by one outstanding player as in previous years. The pacesetters were Barry Conway, Dan Arft, Pat Kenney, John Bertram, Bill Ritchie, and John Conway.

Since three lettermen will be returning for the spring of 1962, Mr. Kenney can look forward to another outstanding season. Barry Conway and Pat Kenney should prove to be one of the better doubles team in the state.

The New Look in Cheerleading Comes to M.H.S.

VARSITY CHEERLEADERS. Cassie Bachhuber, Barbara Paveletzke, Jeanne Anderson, Peggy Mies, Jayne Zielinski, and Rose Ann Swiecichowski.

❖ The M.H.S. student body was encouraged throughout the football and basketball seasons by its spirited cheerleaders.

Cassie Bachhuber, Peggy Mies, Jayne Zielinski, Jeanne Anderson, Barbara Paveletzke, and Rose Ann Swiecichowski were chosen to direct and to promote enthusiasm and loyalty.

This year bermudas and knee-socks became a new part of the cheerleaders wearing apparel.

By utilizing every moment of their spare time in earnest practice, the cheerleaders greatly improved their techniques.

The senior cheerleaders Peggy Mies and Jayne Zielinski provided two and three years of cheerleading experience respectively. The junior class contributed four cheerleaders: Cassie Bachhuber, Jeanne Anderson, Barbara Paveletzke, and Rose Ann Swiecichowski, who have had three years of cheerleading experience.

Jim,
I wasn't the same chemistry as when you were helping with the experiments then, without you expert workmanship, I had to dirty
my own hands with acids, charcoal and all that not!! I'd rather have English than chem. any day
when all you get is messy
it's all over everything.
All foolishness aside, I hope to

Hi Jim. This sure has been a pretty confused year. Everything was happening to everyone. Now does it feel to be the last chemistry student a N.H.S. at least thats what I think - you did a wonderful job on all of those formulas. Well I'd better go now but lunch boy. See you this summer sometime + we can probably get in a little cardgame O.k.

To the best wrestler and shortstop in the league.

Ronaldo.

BE GOOD

Hi Jim,
It was great having Geometry with you and I want to thank you for the patience when you helped me with my Geometry during study hall. Have fun this summer.
Lots of luck as a Senior!
Best Wishes
Helen
